

Karin Walkingstick - Cherokee

Karin is a Cherokee potter from northeastern Oklahoma. Her passion for art began at an early age, throughout her life she has explored many types of creative expression. Since her introduction to clay in 2013 she has committed her time exclusively to creating works of pottery using techniques that echo her Cherokee culture. All of her pieces are hand built using the slab and coil method and are stone burnished.